

Protecting It Is Ours.

In a market overflowing with solutions that focus on credit and promote self-help, ID TheftSmart's licensed investigators simply do more. Our depth differentiates us and the organizations that offer our help when needed. Our investigators have thousands of hours of experience – more than any other company in the industry – helping people to determine the extent of their exposure to risk, and to restore their identities to pre-theft status as quickly and efficiently as possible.

ID TheftSmart investigators will do the bulk of the work for a fraud victim. Not as a 'counselor' ... not alongside ... not in conjunction with ... but as an advocate on their behalf.

Our licensed investigators handle identity theft issues with a three-staged defense. They attack the issue before, during, and after someone becomes the victim of identity theft. This multifaceted approach allows all members to benefit from the experience and expert consultation provided by the investigators. They address the issue of privacy and best practices before an event, action after a data exposure, and restoration services in the unfortunate event of an identity theft occurrence. Protection, Detection, and Restoration.
